Thirty-Eighth

Congress of the United States of America;

At the Second Session,Begun and held at the City of Washington, on Monday, the fifth day of December, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four.

A RESOLUTION

Submitting to the legislatures of the several States a proposition to amend the Constitution of the United States.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, (two-thirds of both houses concurring), that the following article be proposed to the legislatures of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which, when ratified by three-fourths of said legislatures, shall be valid, to all intents and purposes, as a part of the said Constitution, to-wit: Article XIII. Section 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction. Section 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

Independence of the United States at the great Session, begun and held at the City of Washington in the State of Columbia, on Monday the fourth day of December one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five.

Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

Be it decided by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, (two thirds of both Houses concurring, That the following article be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States which when ratified by three fourths of said Legislatures shall be valid as part of the Constitution, to-wit:

Article XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Section 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice President of the United States, Representatives in Congress, the Executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced so that the whole number of persons counted in that State shall be only such number as bears the same ratio to the whole number of persons counted in that State as the number of persons counted in that State bears to the whole number of persons counted in the United States.

no one shall bear the whole number of male citizens living one year ago in such State.

Section 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who having previously taken an oath, as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State legislature, or as a justice, or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may by a vote of two thirds of each House remove such disability.

Section 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void.

Section 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

This Indenture, made this 21st day of December, in the year of 1868 - between Capt P J Hedrick Sup. D. B. of the one part, and Abey Cunningham of the County of Attentum
State of Va of the other part, Witnesseth, That the said Capt
P J Hedrick, by virtue of the authority in him vested as MILITARY AGENT, aforesaid, hath put and bound, and doth by These Presents, put and bind Abey Cunningham a free girl of color, of the said County, and being of the age of Eighteen years, to be Apprenticed to the said Abey Cunningham, to learn the art of a Housekeeper, and with him dwell, and remain and serve until she the said Abey Cunningham shall obtain the age of Eighteen years; during all which time, she the said Abey Cunningham faithfully shall serve and obey, all secrets keep, and all lawful commands willingly do and perform; and shall not absent herself from the service of her Master. Day or night, without his leave; but shall, in all things, as a faithful Apprentice, behave herself towards her master, and all his family, during the said term; and the said Abey Cunningham doth hereby covenant, promise and agree to, and with the said
Capt P J Hedrick, and his successors in office, that he the said Abey Cunningham will learn the said Apprentice in the art of a Housekeeper which he now useth, shall and will teach and instruct, or cause to be taught and instructed in the best manner that can, and shall and will provide and allow unto the said Apprentice, during all the said term, competent and sufficient meat, drink, washing, lodging, apparel, and all other things necessary for the said Apprentice house, and that he will well and truly pay to the said Abey Cunningham at the end of her term of apprenticeship aforesaid, the sum of 20 Dollars, lawful money of Virginia; and that during the term aforesaid Abey Cunningham will instruct, or cause to be instructed, the said Abey Cunningham, in reading, writing and arithmetic, as far as the Rule of Three.
